

The questions game

 TIME	15 minutes
 No.	Maximum of 30 participants.
 MATERIALS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Colorful and thick paper strips
 OBJECTIVES	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • To break the ice between participants before they introduce themselves
 INSTRUCTION S STEP BY STEP	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Prepare paper strips with questions written on them (one question per paper). Make sure to prepare enough of them so that everyone can have a question at any time, and they can go through them quickly. For example: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ If you could choose a superpower, what would it be? ○ What are you the proudest of? ○ What was your most beautiful trip? ○ What do you like to do to relax? ○ What have you always liked to do? ○ Who would you haunt if you were a ghost? ○ If you could live in any other city right now, where would you go? ○ What is your favourite day of the week? Your favourite month? ○ If you were given €10 million, what would you do with it? ○ How would you describe yourself in 3 words? ○ If you could wake up having acquired a quality or skill, what would it be?

	You can also choose questions that are more intimate or that relate to the content of your training (this version can be done when the group already knows each other or after a few days of training): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Who is the person who inspires you most in life? Why is that? ○ Who would be your ideal partner? ○ Who is the person you can rely on the most right now? ○ What is your favourite feeling? Why? ○ What is your favourite movie love story? ○ What is good communication for you? ○ What is your ideal first date? ○ What body part attracts your attention the most when you meet someone for the first time? ○ What do you value most in friendship? ○ What public figure do you fantasies about? ○ Are you jealous? ○ Do you already have, or would you like to have children? ○ Where does infidelity begin for you? <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 2. Put the questions on the ground; 3. Ask participants to choose one of the questions on the floor and turn to someone to ask it. In turn, the pairs take turns answering the question by picking their partner. Thus, "A" chooses a question and asks it to "B". "B" will then ask A the question; 4. Once the question has been asked and answered, they can keep the question and ask it to someone else or put it back on the floor and choose another one. Each participant may ask only one question per meeting. Once the question is asked, they have to find a new partner.
 DISCUSSIONS	-
 HINTS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Participants are free to expand on their answers or not; ● Reassure participants that the goal is not to impress the speaker. There are no right or wrong answers; ● The goal is not to create debate among participants. Each person answers one question and we move on to another question and another person; ● Make it clear that the goal is not to stay with the same people. This way, everyone has the chance to talk to each other
